Morsel for Meditation

Prudence means practical common sense, taking the trouble to think out what you are doing and what is likely to come of it. Nowadays most people hardly think of Prudence as one of the 'virtues'. In fact, because Christ said we could only get into His world by being like children, many Christians have the idea that, provided you are 'good', it does not matter being a fool. But that is a misunderstanding. In the first place, most children show plenty of 'prudence' about doing the things they are really interested in, and think them out quite sensibly. In the second place, as St. Paul points out, Christ never meant that we were to remain children in intelligence: on the contrary. He told us to be not only 'as harmless as doves', but also 'as wise as serpents'. He wants a child's heart, but a grown-up's head. He wants us to be simple, single-minded, affectionate, and teachable, as good children are; but He also wants every bit of intelligence we have to be alert at its job, and in first-class fighting trim.

All Christians baptized in the name of the Trinity who are in good standing with their home churches are welcome to receive Holy Communion. If you wish not to receive the wine, know that the Church has always taught that the full sacrament is received by partaking of the consecrated bread alone. Only the Eucharistic minister may dip the bread into the chalice. If you wish only to receive a blessing, please join us at the altar rail, crossing your arms over your chest.
