Morsel for Meditation

One must learn to make the transition from “let this cup pass from me” to “nevertheless, not my will, but thy will be done.” And God grant that as you face life with all of its decision – as you face the bitter cup which you will inevitably face from day to day – God grant that you will learn this one thing and that is to make the transition from “this cup” to “nevertheless.” ...This, you see, is the thing that determines whether you go through life devoted to an eternal cause or whether you go through life depending on your own finite answers, which really turn out to be no answers. This is the thing that determines whether you can rise out of your egocentric predicament to devotion to a higher cause. This is what Jesus was able to do and this is the lesson that he presents to us today.

Martin Luther King Jr.: “Garden of Gethsemane,” sermon, Dexter Avenue Baptist Church, Montgomery, AL, April 14, 1957.

"Do not be afraid, little flock, for it is your Father's good pleasure to give you the kingdom. Sell your possessions, and give alms. Make purses for yourselves that do not wear out, an unfailing treasure in heaven, where no thief comes near and no moth destroys. For where your treasure is, there your heart will be also." - Luke 12:32-34
